Without a Tax Collector.

William T. Cox, the tax collector of this borough, did not give a bond at the recent term of court and, as a consequence, the council will have to petition the court to appoint a tax collector. The tax collectorship and borough treasurer have been going together for four or five years, which, it is claimed, is the only way that it justifies a man in accepting the collectorship, but this year the council has separated the offices.

New Ball Suits.

The Nonpareil base ball club of this place has just received new suits for the season. The suits, including the stockings, are black. The caps are black, trimmed with white. The name of the club, Nonpareil, appears on the shirts in large white letters. The officers of the team are as follows: Manager, John O'Hare; assistant manager, James Delaney; treasurer, Harry Copping; captain, Walter Williams. This is one of the best, if not the best, ball team ever organized at this place, and if the boys practice, which has not been done by the clubs in the past, the Nonpareil club will not meet many defeats during the present season. It requires practice, however, to keep in good trim. The Nonpareil club will play at Clarion on Decoration Day.

Will Visit Scotland.

To-morrow morning Peter Robertson and his wife will start for Scotland, the land of their nativity, where they will spend six or eight weeks visiting with Mrs. Robertson's mother and her auld friends and neighbors. Twenty-eight years ago the 13th of May Mr. and Mrs. Robertson sailed from Scotland to seek their fortune in America, and this is their first visit to the scenes of their childhood days. Mr. Robertson has been a citizen of Reynoldsville for a number of years and has served one term as mayor of this municipality. He is now mine boss at the Virginia mine. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson's parents, excepting the latter's mother, are dead, but besides the mother there are others with whom they will delight to meet in the kirkyard for "auld lang syne." THE STAR wishes them a safe and pleasant journey to and from Scotland.

SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST.

One Year at the Clarion Normal Free, Including Boarding, &c.

THE STAR has decided to give some enterprising young person one year's scholarship free in the Clarion State Normal, one of the finest institutions of learning in this part of the state. We expect to publish full particulars next week of the proposed scholarship contest, including the coupon to be voted. This will be an excellent way for some person to get a free education. The free scholarship includes tuition, light, heat, washing, furnished room, boarding and use of books. Think of what the offer means, and all that will be required is a little active work in getting subscribers for THE STAR. There should be a number of contestants for such a valuable prize. Watch for full particulars and coupon in next issue of THE STAR, in the mean time persons wanting to enter the contest will be given all the information necessary for contestants by inquiring at THE STAR office, either personally or by letter. The contest will be open for any section of this or any other county.

Mrs. C. C. Gibson Dead.

Mrs. Mary J. Gibson, wife of C. C. Gibson, died at her home on Grant street at 10.00 A. M. yesterday, May 9th. Mrs. Gibson had been suffering with catarrh of the stomach several weeks and at 4.00 P. M. last Friday she had a stroke of apoplexy. At midnight she had a second stroke and at 7.00 A. M. Saturday a third stroke. From that time on her life was despaired of. She suffered intensely, yet she was very patient. Mrs. Gibson realized that she had but a short time to live and among other matters she selected the singers for the funeral, Dr. S. Reynolds, G. W. Palen, Daniel Strouse and Richard Ramsey.

Mrs. Gibson's maiden name was Mary Jane Reynolds, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Reynolds, deceased. She was born in Reynoldsville April 13th, 1845, making her fifty-four years old the 13th of last month. In February, 1877, she was married to C. C. Gibson. Two children, a son and daughter, Reynolds and Josephine Gibson, were born unto them. The husband and children survive the departed.

Mrs. Gibson was one of the best women in Reynoldsville. She was a devoted wife, loving mother and a very kind neighbor. She had been a member of the Presbyterian church about thirty years.

Funeral services will be held at the house at 2.00 P. M. to-morrow, conducted by Rev. W. F. Reber, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and interment will be made in Beulah cemetery.

New Schedule on A. V. R'y.

On Sunday, May 21st, a new schedule goes into effect on the A. V. R'y. that will give an extra passenger train to and from Pittsburg daily, which means an additional Sunday train to and from Pittsburg. The exact time of trains on the new schedule is not positive yet, but they will likely arrive at Reynoldsville about the following time:

Train No. 9, will start from Brookville instead of New Bethlehem, and get here same as before, 6.40 A. M.; No. 6, that now arrives at 7.40 A. M., will get here about 8.55 A. M.; No. 1, 12.55 P. M., same as before; No. 2, 1.55 P. M., 20 minutes later; No. 5, 6.00 P. M., forty minutes earlier; No. 10, about 8.05 P. M., as before, and will run through to Pittsburg, instead of stopping at New Bethlehem; No. 7, new train that will leave Pittsburg about 5.00 P. M., will get here about 9.40 P. M. and run to DuBois; No. 8, new train from DuBois to Brookville, will leave DuBois about 10.10 P. M. and leave here about 10.30 P. M.

Sunday trains will be about as follows: No. 30, new train between DuBois and Pittsburg, will leave here about 7.00 A. M.; No. 31 will arrive from Pittsburg at same time as before, 1.00 P. M.; No. 32, westbound, 4.35 P. M.; No. 7 from Pittsburg, 9.40 P. M.

All the passenger trains on the new schedule will be given faster times.

An Exciting Ball Game.

It is likely that the most exciting and best game of ball that will be played in this section this season, was played between the Reynoldsville and DuBois teams on the Brookville grounds last Thursday afternoon. The game was a close one, the DuBois club winning by one score, the score being 7-8. The game was played for a wager of fifty dollars a side and gate receipts, which amounted to $69.00, making $169.00 for the winners. Besides this considerable money changed hands on the game. Both teams played good ball and there was no jangling, strange as that may seem. Our boys lost the game in the first inning by allowing the DuBois team to get four runs. A large number of base ball admirers from DuBois and Reynoldsville accompanied the teams to Brookville. The batteries were: Reynoldsville, Bitters and W. Williams; DuBois, Merl and Homer Groves, of Brookwayville.

Appointed by Court.

W. L. Johnston, Esq., of West Reynoldsville borough, was appointed by Judge Reed last week as tax collector in that borough. S. E. Brewer failed to file his bond and, hence, the court appointed Squire Johnston. The West Reynoldsville town council elected Squire Johnston treasurer of that borough.

HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES.

Commencement, Alumni Reunion and Banquet were Interesting and Pleasant.

The third annual commencement of the Reynoldsville high school was held in Assembly hall Wednesday evening. A large audience attended the exercises. The graduating class was composed of four young ladies and three young men. The young people delighted the audience with their orations, which showed that each graduate had studied his or her subject thoroughly. Their ideas were presented in a clear and impressive manner. After the orations D. J. Waller, Jr., D. D., principal of the Indiana State Normal school, was introduced and he delivered an able and interesting address. Dr. J. W. Foust, one of the directors, in a neat and timely address, presented the diplomas to the graduating class.

The evening program was as follows: "Heroism"..... Elva Sara Coleman "Francis E. Willard"..... Elsie May Ross "Should the United States Pursue a Policy of Expansion"..... Wendell Pearl Barto of Expansion..... Will C. Smith Music..... Orchestra "Life's Mirror"..... Margaret Winifred Davis "The Highway of Life"..... Lena Gertrude Deible "The American Freedmen"..... James Garfield Pentz Music..... Orchestra Graduating Address..... D. J. Waller, Jr., D. D., Principal Indiana State Normal School Presentation of Diplomas..... Dr. J. W. Foust REUNION AND BANQUET.

The third annual alumni reunion was held in Assembly hall Thursday evening. The attendance was not as large as it was for the junior contest and commencement exercises. Miss Lulu Black, vice president of the Alumni Association, presided. After a selection from the orchestra Miss Inez Brown, in her usual pleasant and winning way, recited "What the Fiddle Told." Dr. Benjamin Gill, professor of Latin and Greek in the State College, was introduced and delivered a very scholarly lecture on "What Educates." Dr. Gill gave his audience something to think about. He insists that to make a success of life a man must get acquainted with himself.

After the lecture the members of the Alumni Association and a few invited friends, about eighty altogether, went to Hotel Imperial to enjoy the annual banquet. The banqueters marched into the spacious dining room of Hotel Imperial at 10.45 P. M., where they remained three hours. Almost two hours were spent in disposing of the bill of fare, which was served in eight courses. The banquet was fit for a king.

After the last course Toastmaster G. W. Lenkerd called for toasts, which were responded to as follows: "Clouds and Sunshine," Miss Minnie Whitmore; "Fancies," Miss Agnes Stone; "Sparks," Rev. W. F. Reber; "Sailing, not Drifting," Will C. Smith; "99," Prof. F. S. Breed; "The Citizen and the School," M. M. Davis, Esq. Dr. Gill, after a flow of wit and humor, spoke very flatteringly of the condition of our school and the efficient manner in which it has been managed. Dr. was very favorably impressed with Reynoldsville.

Wallace Shows.

The public always delights in a meritorious circus. This explains why the Dubuque public was eminently pleased with the Wallace show. It was entertaining, amusing, thrilling and delightful. There were numberless acts that came with what seemed endless continuity; they thrilled and bewildered the observer; they occasioned joy; they provoked breathless suspense till their completion. To enumerate the best acts would be a task equal to finding merit in Spanish atrocities. Every act was good and there were a few that especially centered attention. The aerial work was fine and the ring work of the highest order. The Nelson family, the Stirk family, the Earl sisters, O'Brien and Thomas; and innumerable other stars, among the very best in the business, won the plaudits of the multitudes.—Dubuque, (Ia.) Daily Times. At DuBois Thursday, May 25th.

Old Time Shingles.

The shingles that are made to-day don't have the lasting qualities that the shingles had that were made fifty years ago. Levi Schuckers, one of the enterprising and successful farmers of Winslow township, has found it necessary to enlarge his barn, which was built forty years ago, and he will tear off the first roof that was put on the barn. He says that with a little patching the old roof would last ten years longer, making fifty years for the roof. The shingle roofs of the present time last from ten to twenty years.
